EGERTON UNIVERSITY | FACULTY OF COMMERCE

[Your Campaign Name]

Faculty of Commerce Congress Representative

"Your Voice. Your Faculty. Your Future."

Independent student campaign. Not an official university publication.

Vision

To build a more connected, informed, opportunity-driven, and accountable Faculty of Commerce where every student's voice matters.

Mission

To represent student concerns responsibly, promote academic and career development, encourage entrepreneurship, and strengthen communication between Commerce students and the relevant university leadership.

About

I am a Bachelor of Commerce student at Egerton University, aspiring to serve as Congress representative for the Faculty of Commerce. My campaign focuses on student representation, academic support, career development, entrepreneurship, transparent leadership, and meaningful communication. I believe every Commerce student deserves to be heard, informed, and represented.

Twenty campaign commitments

Campaign commitments and advocacy priorities - not guaranteed results.

1. Student Representation and Accountability
Represent students' concerns responsibly and communicate them to the relevant university and faculty leadership. Provide updates on concerns raised and the progress made.

2. Regular Student Consultations
Encourage regular opportunities for Commerce students to share ideas, concerns, and priorities through meetings, surveys, and digital feedback channels.

3. Transparent Leadership
Communicate campaign activities, student concerns raised, and progress updates honestly. Do not make promises that cannot be fulfilled.

4. Academic Support
Advocate for better communication about academic resources, revision opportunities, relevant academic information, and appropriate channels for academic assistance.

5. Better Communication
Promote timely sharing of verified and relevant faculty information through accessible communication channels.

6. Career Development
Encourage access to career guidance, professional development information, career talks, and opportunities relevant to Commerce students.

7. Internship and Industrial Attachment Opportunities
Help students discover relevant internship, industrial attachment, and practical learning opportunities by sharing verified information from legitimate sources.

8. Entrepreneurship and Innovation
Encourage entrepreneurship, business creativity, innovation, and student-led business initiatives.

9. Financial Literacy
Promote awareness of budgeting, saving, responsible borrowing, investment fundamentals, and personal financial management.

10. Student Welfare
Listen to student welfare concerns and direct them to appropriate university offices or established support channels.

11. Inclusive Representation
Encourage respectful participation and fair representation of students with different experiences, backgrounds, interests, and needs.

12. Digital Student Engagement
Use appropriate digital channels to collect feedback, communicate verified information, and make campaign engagement easier.

13. Responsible Student Feedback
Create accessible ways for students to share suggestions, report concerns, and propose practical improvements.

14. Professional Networking and Faculty Events
Encourage relevant professional discussions, networking activities, career talks, and student engagement events where feasible and appropriately approved.

15. Student Business and Talent Showcase
Encourage opportunities for Commerce students to showcase businesses, projects, talents, and innovative ideas.

16. Fairness and Responsible Leadership
Promote fairness, respectful conduct, responsible decision-making, and accountability in student representation.

17. Access to Relevant Information
Encourage clear communication about relevant academic, career, event, and student support opportunities.

18. Collaboration Across Student Groups
Encourage cooperation among student groups and relevant faculty stakeholders to address shared priorities.

19. Regular Progress Reports
Provide periodic updates on issues raised, actions taken, progress achieved, and challenges that still need attention.

20. An Open-Door Leadership Approach
Encourage accessible communication, respectful dialogue, and practical follow-up on student concerns.
